

FROM IDEA TO FOUNDER

THE JOURNEY STARTS HERE

Are you a passionate regional Queensland female with an early-stage STEM idea or prototype?

The Stack+ Program is here to help you grow your idea, build valuable networks, and develop essential business acumen.

We're seeking 30 passionate, driven women with innovations in areas like technology, Energy, cybersecurity, mining, resources, agriculture, advanced manufacturing, FoodTech, scientific research, sustainability, disaster resilience or any other innovation transforming business and industry.

It doesn't matter if you're a university student, working in industry, or developing your idea on a farm or in community—we want to uncover Queensland's next innovators.

Whether your concept is fully formed or just an exciting spark, the Stack+ Program provides the tools, mentorship, and support to help you thrive.

Ready to grow, collaborate, and scale your impact? Submit an expression of interest today to take the first step on your transformative journey
